A great part of people's lives in Ireland

1 When people go to Ireland, one of the first things that they see are the road signs¹, and these road signs are in English and Irish. In the Republic of Ireland all information must be in English and Irish.

Two thousand years ago most people in Ireland spoke Irish. But then in the 16th century the English came and invaded² Ireland.

From that time more and more people spoke English. From the 19th century most people spoke English.

Today all children must learn Irish at school and many schools have some lessons in Irish and some in English. For this reason most people in Ireland can speak Irish too.

But only about every tenth person speaks Irish at home. Today more and more people hope that this is going to change because they think that Irish is a great part of people's lives in Ireland.

1 sign - Schild; 2 to invade - einmarschieren (in), eindringen, überfallen

P Read the text and answer the questions. Write short answers.
